

Newsletter!

Praises & Prayers

- Please pray for at least 10 new supporting partners for this coming month. This means I need good communication to potential partners, good follow-up, and hearts that are called to support this ministry.

- Please pray for 100% support by June 1st!

- Prayer would be greatly appreciated in the search for a new vehicle.

Thankful List

- Thank you for provision of forever stamps! These are crucial to getting communications out while I am still in California.

- I am thankful for the encouraging emails and fb comments that made me feel loved after the car accident.

- I am extremely thankful for the 10 new partners that joined my team last month!

Stay up to date by subscribing to prayer updates at:

WhatsUpAndyMo.com

To support, visit:
OMF.org/US/partner

Raising Support to go on staff with OMF International as their School Partnerships Coordinator

I will be completely honest with you as I always am; I am a bit discouraged. It feels like there are many things hitting me all at once and it is difficult to find a balance between optimism, hopefulness and the reality of the situations. Whether it is a flat tire preventing me from getting to work, or unexpected news of a family member's poor health, there seems to be a lot of seemingly negative events occurring at overlapping times. I know that God works all things for His glory which is good for us, but sometimes anger and frustration creeps in. If we were not made to comprehend all of God's plans, then it is clear that our limited intellect would frustrate our efforts in trying to be independent and self-reliant. I suppose that I am in need of checking the purposes I have set within my heart. I cannot do ministry on my own or for my own; the mere idea of it is counter-intuitive and filled with hypocrisy. I cannot expect financial support to come in merely based on "cuteness" and a well-rehearsed presentation. I can have faith that God will provide for his ways. After all, He was the one who called me to this ministry and placed in me a heart for mobilizing students. It is not my plan but His. It is not for my glory but for His.

"Therefore, since we have been justified through faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have gained access by faith into this grace in which we now stand. And we boast in the hope of the glory of God. Not only so, but we also glory in our sufferings, because we know that suffering produces perseverance; perseverance, character; and character, hope. And hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit, who has been given to us." Romans 5:1-5

CURRENT SUPPORT LEVEL: 50%

Ongoing Ministried and Partnership Development

Between the effort of Nathan Jeung, Ken and Rosalie Yu, and myself, we hosted SJSU graduates from AACF in Rosalie and Nate's years of participation. Thank you so much to the Yu's who hosted and to Nate and ken who did child care. It was a great time of fellowship, catching up, and sharing my vision.

It seems that I have a poor relationship with moving vehicles. The week of Valentines my car got a flat on the way to work. On March 1st my car got rear ended and the damage looks bad. I am thankful for God's caring hand who protected me during the accident. I walked away with a sprained wrist and soreness but nothing serious. I am currently looking for a new vehicle to replace my Sentra.

I had the opportunity to share with the Women's Wednesday Bible Study. I really enjoyed all the great questions they asked and thoughts they had to share. Many of these women have been part of my life since I was 6 years old and first attending church. I am thankful for their support.

Karen and Dale Viljoen were the hosting missionaries for my short term team to Japan back in 2011. I am thankful for the opportunity to spend some time with them while they are in the Bay Area. Dale has already returned but please continue to pray for Karen as she remains a bit longer to also raise support.

Merci,

~ Andy Mo